

Rosslyn Owen

Head of External Relations

Sheffield High School for Girls

Rosslyn is the Head of External Relations at Sheffield Girls'. She has over a decade of experience in regular giving consultancy, where she specialised in integrating regular giving programs into a broader development strategy. Her passion for educational development began during her university years, where she worked as a student caller and supported alumni events.

At Sheffield Girls', Rosslyn leads all external relations efforts, including alumnae engagement, philanthropy, and corporate partnerships. With Sheffield Girls' approaching its 150th anniversary in 2028, Rosslyn is spearheading a campaign to raise £1 million for the school's bursary endowment fund, ensuring perpetual bursarial support for future generations.

Rosslyn grew up in rural Worcestershire and earned a degree in English Literature from the University of Sheffield. She is an unwavering advocate for equal access to education for children from all backgrounds, viewing bursaries as a key factor in promoting social mobility. When not at work, Rosslyn is a busy parent to her two young children and enjoys running, baking, and creative writing.
