

Charles Kingston

Head of Prospect Research

University of Oxford

Charles and the team are responsible for prospect research and due diligence for the University of Oxford's fundraising activity. His time in the role includes the duration of Oxford's successful £3.3bn campaign which concluded in 2019. Before moving into fundraising, Charles worked in research, information and knowledge management roles in several major business organisations.

