

Christian Propper

Associate Director (Operations)

Marlborough College Foundation

Christian joined the Marlborough College Foundation in February 2021 as Associate Director (Operations). Previously, he worked at the University of Oxford, where he headed up the University of Oxford's Marketing and Insights team within the main development office. His team was responsible for running fundraising appeals for the University as well as providing analysis and insights across all fundraising and engagement activities for the University and its independent colleges. Chris has worked in development over 20 years, including as a consultant, and was co-author of the 2016 IDPE Benchmarking report. In his spare time, Chris runs www.Propper-Fundraising.com – a free learning resource collating the best fundraising-related blogs in one place.

