Founder and CEO

Juliet Corbett Consulting Ltd

Juliet Corbett specialises in strategy development for independent schools and believes that a good strategy makes it easy and seamless for schools to both secure their future and help build a more equal and just world.

She works with leaders who share this vision, helping them to focus on the strategic priorities which will deliver their goals faster. Working with senior leadership teams and governing bodies, and advising heads and fundraising leaders, she revels in guiding people through complexity.

She has over twenty years of experience in fundraising, strategy and marketing within the education sector, including leading two development offices in Cambridge and Oxford University colleges plus in an independent school in Sydney, Australia. She distils the knowledge and experience gained along the way into her award-winning podcast, The Independent School Podcast.

In 2018 she was awarded the top prize on Durham University's MBA (Masters in Business) programme and she has an Economics degree from the University of Cambridge. She's a Full Member of the Institute of Fundraising and is proud to be an Institute of Development Professionals in Education Corporate Partner.
