

Neil Munz-Jones

Speaker and Author of The Reluctant Networker

The book: Neil first published The Reluctant Networker in 2010. It has been featured in a number of leading publications such as The Sunday Times, The Financial Times, and The Daily Telegraph. The second edition, updated for the digital world we now live in, was published in 2016. Copies can be purchased from Amazon in both physical & ebook (Kindle, iPad) format. <https://tinyurl.com/ycyjeg2x>

The talks: Neil has given numerous, inspirational talks on networking for organisations such as The Financial Times, Barclaycard, Philips, The National Audit Office and INSEAD. He also gives talks to students and 6th formers about getting into good networking habits at the start of their careers. He has appeared as a guest on BBC Radio and as a networking expert on The Guardian's Live Q&A.

See www.reluctantnetworker.com for more information.

In addition to giving talks on networking Neil is a mentor and business coach as well as running mdj2 (www.mdj2.co.uk) a consulting firm working with B2B and B2C clients to help them deliver a broad range of strategic and improvement projects. All Neil's new business comes via networking.

