

Poppy Scale

Client Engagement Manager

Aluminati

Poppy is the Client Engagement Manager at Aluminati and has worked in the education technology sector for over seven years. Initially working with institutions to build compelling digital student recruitment campaigns, she now works closely with schools, colleges and universities to advise on how to utilise online engagement platforms such as Aluminati Community Builder to help grow and engage their communities.

