

Jez Rowarth

Principal

St. Anselm's Catholic School

Jez Rowarth joined the teaching profession in 1990 and spent his first six years teaching in the borough of Barking and Dagenham. Promotion saw him move to Kent and join St Anselm's Catholic School. As Deputy Head, he saw the school join the Kent Catholic Schools' Partnership (KCSP). Since being made Principal in 2018, Jez has been heavily involved in several partnerships; including KCSP, AEUS, which is a cluster within KCSP and East Kent Schools Together (EKST) which he currently chairs and comprises of 7 state schools, 3 independent schools and 1 university. It is through this partnership that he continues to strive to diminish the difference between disadvantaged students and their peers.