

Justin Nolan

Director of Development

Eton College

Justin Nolan has been Director of Development at Eton College since 2020. He is also responsible for the College's communications team. Justin became a teacher in 1991 and took a different direction in 1996 when he joined the French Bank Société Générale. He returned to teaching in 2000 when he joined Eton College where he has been a history teacher and House Master. Justin was appointed Deputy Head (Co-Curricular) in 2017 before taking on his current role.