

Tarah Gillespie

Senior Development Manager

Robert Gordon's College

Tarah hails from Colorado, USA and established roots in Scotland upon the completion of her Marketing degree from University of Colorado. She has over 15 years of experience in the education sector working initially in Higher Education at University of Aberdeen and University of St Andrews and currently in the independent school sector at Robert Gordon's College. She holds expertise in admissions, marketing, partnerships and sales roles.