idpe annual conference

Síofra Rucker

Director of Advancement

American School in London

Síofra is an experienced advancement leader who specialises in aligning people, capital, and mission. With over 25 years in independent schools across the US and UK, she has led strategies securing multiple seven- and eight-figure gifts, managed high-profile media crises, and built high-performing teams spanning fundraising, communications, and engagement. Based in London, she recently completed an Executive MBA at Cambridge Judge Business School, where her work focused on family office strategy, international philanthropy, and the cultural dynamics of philanthropy.